

Authorisation: Right to decide +18 years

When they reach the age of 18, the boarding school provides various opportunities to teach these young people how to deal with independence. However, the scope of this must also be determined by those who continue to exercise parental authority.

Belgian law stipulates that the age of majority starts when one reaches the age of 18. However, this does not mean that parents can no longer exercise control over their children. As long as they live with the parents, they continue to bear responsibility for the actions committed by the adult. For these reasons, we therefore assume in principle that the freedoms offered by the boarding school can only be granted if the person exercising parental authority gives permission for this. Provided that it is expressly stated that the +18-year-old may decide for himself, this can be deviated from.

This authorization can be given by filling in this document yourself and signing it for approval.

I, the undersigned, hereby grant to my son/ daughter/ pupil born on .../.../..... the full authority to complete or sign the permit for +18-year-olds themselves. In such a case, the boarding school will not inform the parents if their daughter/son is not present at the boarding school due to a self-given permission to leave the boarding school.

In the event of any accidents or irregularities during such absence, the boarding staff cannot be held responsible and I waive all recourse.

Extra permanent admission +18 years

Boarders who have reached the full age of 18 can be granted permanent permission by the parents to leave the boarding school daily between 6.30 pm and 10.30 pm for cultural or sporting activities. Departure is allowed after completing the study and the meal and this in consultation with the educator/manager.

However, if they are in possession of a vehicle, they are not allowed to take minors with them, unless expressly authorised by the parents of the intern concerned. The use of alcoholic beverages is prohibited.

In the event of any abuse, the manager reserves the right to revoke this permission in whole or in part.

By granting these permissions, the parent/guardian assumes all responsibility in the event of accidents or abuses and therefore does not consider the staff members of the boarding school responsible, against which he/she will, if necessary, waive all recourse. We also inform you that if your son/daughter would imitate your signature, we will not take responsibility for this.

I, the undersigned, hereby give permanent permission to my son/daughter/pupil born on .../.../..... To leave the boarding school every evening during the set hours.
